

DIABETES, OBESITY & HEART DISEASES

11-13 DECEMBER 2014
ST JAMES & ALBANY HOTEL
PARIS - FRANCE

2ND EDITION

LIMITED TO 150 PARTICIPANTS

REGISTER NOW !
www.ican-series.com

TOPICS

NEW MOLECULAR TARGETS FOR DIABETES

DIABETES, OUTCOMES & UPDATES

OLD & NEW THERAPIES IN DIABETES

VASCULAR DISEASES & HOMEOSTASIS IN DIABETES

REVASCULARIZATION IN DIABETES

BARIATRIC SURGERY IN CARDIOMETABOLIC DISEASES ; DOES IT MAKE SENSE ?

MEET WORLD RENOWNED SCIENTISTS, CLINICIANS AND ACADEMICS IN THE HEART OF PARIS

- Michel Komajda - Institute of Cardiometabolism And Nutrition, France
- Karine Clément - Institute of Cardiometabolism And Nutrition, France
- Ele Ferrannini - University of Pisa School of Medicine, Italy
- Francesco Cosentino - Karolinska Institute, Sweden
- Djamel Lebeche - The Mount Sinai Hospital, USA
- Lars Rydén - Karolinska Institute, Sweden
- Walter Paulus - University of Göttingen, Germany
- Philip Home - Newcastle University, UK
- Fabrizio Andreelli - Institute of Cardiometabolism And Nutrition, France
- Marc Donath - University Hospital Basel, Switzerland
- Lina Badimon - Cardiovascular Research Center, Spain
- Raffaële De Caterina - Cardiology Division G. d'Annunzio University, Italy
- Oliver Rider - University of Oxford, UK
- Marco Roffi - University-Hospital of Geneva, Switzerland
- Pascal Leprince - Institute of Cardiometabolism And Nutrition, France
- Stephan Windecker - Swiss Cardiovascular Center Bern, Switzerland
- George Argyropoulos - Skylake Medical Center, USA
- Blandine Laferrère - New York Obesity Research Center, USA
- Gertrude Mingrone - Catholic University of Roma, Italy
- Francesco Rubino - Kings college, UK

WHAT IS ICAN INSTITUTE ?

Founded in Paris in 2011, the Institute of Cardiometabolism And Nutrition is an International Institute, home to scientists, physicians and clinicians, focused on basic and translational cardiometabolic and nutrition research.